GAS SHORTAGE RELIEVED IN SALEM PLANTS

National Sanitary Forces Swing Back Into Operation Today

SITUATION BETTER, SAYS GAS COMPANY

Salem China Heating Up Its Kilns Again; Mullins Resumes Work

Additional men returned to work today in several of the factories whose operations were curtailed when natural gas shortages developed, as improved weather conditions resulted in better gas supplies.

Officials of the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia, said today that the situation had improved and that they hoped for an abatement of the severe cold weather which brought on a sudden demand from consumers.

Sanitary On Again

The plant of the National Sanitary Co. swung back into full operating schedule today for the first time since the gas shortages developed last Tuesday. The plant was the first to cut production as a result of lack of fuel.

Operations were resumed this morning in the enameling department of the Mullins Manufacturing Corp., officers of the company reported. The enameling and tub departments had been forced to suspend operations, throwing about 125 men out of work.

Pottery Heats Up Kilns

The Salem China Co. expects to resume production tomorrow. Today the kilns were being heated to the degree necessary for firing, depending upon the weather, with the expectation of operating Tuesday on a limited schedule.

Some improvement also was noted today at the plant of the E. W. Bliss Co., where low gas pressures hampered foundry operations at night. The plant is working on defense orders. This plant was forced to readjust operations with some reduction in output.

The pottery and the Sanitary were the hardest hit, approximately 700 men in the two plants being thrown out of work.

Factories of the Deming Co. or the Electric Furnace were not affected.

Map Shows Jap Drive Down Malaya

This map shows where the Japanese troops have smashed their way in their drive on Singapore (3), great British naval base. The stippled area indicates territory already taken by the invaders, and arrows show direction of their drives. Immediate objective of the Japanese is Kuala Lumpur (1) on the southern side of the Slim river. On the east coast (2), the Japanese two-pronged drive points towards Singapore and towards a conjunction with the troops marching on Kuala Lumpur.

HITLER STILL NO. 1 ENEMY

So Declares Knox: Emphasizes That Atlantic Battle Is Most Important

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Secretary of the Navy Knox said today that while the American fleet was not idle no early conclusive showdown could be expected with the Japanese fleet and that the battle of the Atlantic was still the war's most important struggle.

The navy's number one job, he said in a speech prepared for the annual United States Conference of Mayors, is keeping the sea lanes open between America and Britain to bring about the defeat of Hitler's Germany—"our great enemy."

"I would not be frank with you if I led you to believe that you could expect favorable, dramatic developments of triumphant, American, full-scale naval engagements in the Pacific in the near future," Knox said.

"The elements of distance, of time, and the necessarily wide distribution of our naval forces preclude what I know you all wish me to suggest: Early conclusive showdown with the Japanese navy. But you know that by this I do not mean to imply that the Pacific fleet is idle."

"It is not idle and you will hear from it again and again when and where careful strategic considerations dictate."

Pointing out that Germany, by bringing Japan into the war sought to divert the attention of America and Britain from the Atlantic, Secretary Knox told the mayors:

"We know who our great enemy is. The enemy who, before all others must be defeated first. It is not Japan, it is not Italy. It is Hitler and Hitler's Nazis. Hitler's Germany. It is Hitler we must destroy."

"That done, the whole Axis fabric will collapse."

NOT GUILTY PLEAS FILED WITH COURT

LISBON, Jan. 12.—No guilty pleas were heard this morning when persons indicted last week by the January grand jury were arraigned.

LISBON MAN IS KILLED, 8 HURT IN ACCIDENTS

William P. Smith, 61, Hit By Car Driven By East Canton Resident

THREE CLEVELAND MOTORISTS HURT

Two Cars Crash Head-on On Route 30, Near East Liverpool

A Lisbon man was killed and eight persons were injured in district traffic accidents over the weekend.

William P. Smith, 61, of the Dungan road, a mile southwest of Lisbon, was killed almost instantly when struck by an automobile driven by Emory Campus of East Canton as Smith attempted to cross W. Lincoln way, near the American Legion hall in Lisbon, at 11:30 p. m. Saturday.

The victim, at the time, was enroute to work at the Wright Brothers plant where he was employed as a night watchman.

Campus, who was traveling east, told Lisbon police that he did not see the pedestrian until too late, due to the blinding lights of approaching cars. Campus said that when he did apply his brakes, the car slid on the icy pavement. The driver was not held.

Smith suffered a fractured skull, left leg and possible internal injuries.

Clevelanders Hurt

Three Clevelanders, enroute to Florida, were hospitalized after their automobile crashed head-on with another machine on Route 30, just north of East Liverpool, at 10 a. m. Sunday, Salem state highway patrolmen reported.

The officers said that they believed the Clevelanders' car, driven by Louis Elrad, 42, of University Heights, was traveling too fast on a curve and struck the car coming from the opposite direction, driven by Fred Stich, 35, of Newington, W. Va.

Louis Elrad suffered a broken knee cap and body bruises. A brother, William, 40, received severe face lacerations and body bruises. Another brother, Sidney, 39, received body bruises.

Such, the other motorist, suffered a severe nose laceration and possible internal injuries. A passing motorist took the injured to the East Liverpool City hospital.

Louis Citino of E. Broadway, Alliance, was treated at Salem City hospital for forehead lacerations after his automobile skidded and upset on Route 14, two miles east of here at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, the patrol said.

Citino's daughter, Nancy, 5, escaped uninjured, as did another passenger, Frank Puoco of Alliance.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12.—County tire rationing coordinators charged with seeing that local committees get the rationing program under way will hold their first meeting in the state office building Thursday at 11 a. m.

Courtney Burton, executive director of the state defense council, said in calling the meeting that Paul Morton of the Office of Price Administration would attend and clear up many matters of policy holding up detailed work of local tire rationing committees.

The county coordinators, Burton explained, are the highest county authorities on the tire program and are expected to act as clearing houses for the local committees and their problems.

Burton reported that 86 counties now had coordinators and that commissioners of the other two were expected to report their selections today.

REDS CLOSING ON MOZHAISK

Russian Armies Breach New German Winter Defense Line

(By Associated Press) Reports of a renewed American-British diplomatic effort to win war bases in neutral Eire shared importance today with advice that Russian armies had reached a new German winter defense line on the central front, putting themselves in good position to close their pincers on perhaps 150,000 Germans in the Mozhaisk sector.

The envisioned effects of air and sea bases in Eire were far reaching, but most immediate of all was their potential effect on Germany's already dwindling battle of the Atlantic sealanes.

That Germany still holds a great striking power in the Atlantic despite the curtailing effects of United States naval participation in patrolling and convoy protection was emphasized by a German communique announcing that another British destroyer had been sunk in the Atlantic by submarine action.

The Hitler command said that still another was torpedoed in the Mediterranean, presumably only damaged.

New Overtures Made

New overtures to Eire, combined with a British press campaign, have been mainly informal but nonetheless official thus far, it was reliably reported in London. The chances of success have improved since the United States entered the war.

Eire's prime minister, Eamon de Valera, has said that Irish sympathies lie with the United States, but he has insisted that involvement of Eire would promote disunity among a people which believes it must keep its distance from Britain.

It was said that United States representatives in Dublin have been putting on so much pressure that their old popularity is waning. It was so secret that they were looking wishfully on such potential bases at Berehaven, Cobb and Lough-Swilly.

Irish bases would permit longer range air protection for British shipping and would serve well for countering any German moves toward West Africa or possibly toward Britain herself.

The three bases, above mentioned, were used by the British and the United States in the World war and were even retained by the British until after Eire became a nation. An agreement of 1938 relinquished those privileges.

Eire has long been considered a potential intermediate landing

All those who are interested in preparing for volunteer service in their own communities should disaster or epidemics occur are asked to notify Miss Ann Thomas, 315 Ohio ave., or phone 3212.

Classes are expected to start with a short time at City hospital.

LISBON BOY NAMED TO NAVAL ACADEMY

John J. Albright, Jr., Appointed; Exams Are Set For April 15

Congressman Lawrence Imhoff today announced that, based upon the results of a competitive civil service examination taken by interested candidates on Oct. 4, 1941, he had today nominated for appointment to the United States Naval academy, class of 1942, the following candidates:

William P. Sutherland, Martins Ferry; Ralph D. Hart, Minerva; John J. Albright, Jr., Lisbon; and Victor Fabry, Bellaire.

Entrance into the Naval academy is now dependent upon these candidates passing the mental and physical examinations which are to be held by the Navy department on April 15, 1942.

Imhoff also nominated the following as alternates to the above-named principal appointees:

RENEW PRESSURE FOR IRISH BASES

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Britain and the United States were reliably reported today to be renewing their pressure for war bases in neutral Eire.

New overtures, combined with a concerted British press campaign for ports and airfields in Eire, both to defend the island and to aid the Allied war in the Atlantic, so far have been mainly informal but official, it was said.

Prime Minister Eamon de Valera of Eire has said he sympathized with the United States in its war, but that it would promote disunity for Eire to become involved.

United States representatives in Dublin, it was said, have been exerting so much pressure on the Eire government in personal conciliarity is waning.

Both the British and United States representatives were said to have insisted that nothing in the way of new proposals have been submitted formally to the Irish, but they make no secret that they look wishfully at such potential bases as Berehaven, Cobb and Lough Swilly, which would help the Allies counter German intensification of the battle of the Atlantic or new moves toward West Africa.

YANKS, DUTCH HIT JAP SHIPS

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Flying Yanks and flying Dutchmen teamed up today to hunt more Japanese ships for their hit parade.

The targets they sought represented the vulnerable spot in Japan's grandiose campaign of conquest. The huge quantities of troops and supplies which Tokyo needs in the south Pacific must be waterborne, and resource-poor Japan is not in a position to replace shipping losses indefinitely.

Get In Heavy Blows

The U. S. army and Netherlands bombers got in some heavy blows yesterday, as the Japs battled to establish a major new invasion front in the fabulously rich East Indies.

The Yanks paid a return visit to the waters off Davao, the southern port in the Philippines which the Japanese have been utilizing as a naval base for their East Indies thrust. The heavy bombers scored a smashing direct hit on an enemy battleship and left it in flames. An anti-aircraft installation ashore also was hit.

Commencing back to secret bases either in the Indies or Australia, the bombers spotted and swooped down on an enemy cruiser and two large transports in the Celebes sea, south of Davao. These were attacked, but the results were undetermined.

Dutch planes, meanwhile, registered two direct hits on large Japanese transports off the northeast coast of Borneo, where the enemy has landed on the little island of Tarakan, a highly important oil

HEARING UNDER WAY FOR TAVERN KEEPER

Court hearings on two cases were in progress today before Mayor R. R. Johnson.

The defendants are Steve Coscare, operator of the Salem House on W. State st., who was arrested following a disorder at the place Saturday night, and Edward Icenhour, 19, of Jennings ave., held in connection with complaints that several women had been molested.

Icenhour was arrested by Patrolman Paul Ormsby Saturday night as the officer searched for a youth who had been molesting women in the vicinity of the Fourth Street school. Police said that three women identified the defendant as the man who had accosted them.

The patrolman nabbed Icenhour on N. Lundy ave.

Steve Coscare was arrested on a charge of assault and also on a charge of resisting an officer as the result of the incident at his tavern Wenden James of 144 Rose ave., one of two youths ejected from the place, filed the charge against Coscare.

He said that the proprietor struck him on the head with a sharp instrument when he attempted to phone the police.

The charge of resisting an officer was filed against Coscare by Patrolman Paul Ormsby, who investigated the disturbance.

Attack On East Indies Stirs Up Horner's Nest Of Resistance

FIGHTING MOUNTS IN ARCHIPELAGO

Artillery Battle Flares Up Along Whole Philippine Front

(By Associated Press) Japan's all-out gamble for a quick, sweeping victory before the united nations can take the offensively carried her troops dangerously closer to Singapore today, touched off a preparatory artillery battle along the entire Philippine front and stirred up a hornet's nest of resistance in the Netherlands East Indies.

Dutch fighters by land and air struck at invasion footholds gained by the Japanese over the week-end and claimed that, with Allied aid, they had showered two Japanese cruisers, a destroyer and two transports with bombs.

The outcome of the land, sea and air battles for vital outposts in the Dutch archipelago was still in the balance; the fighting was mounting in bloody, destructive fury.

Allies Are Aiding

For assistance, the Dutch had United States warships and American and Australian planes.

"Our Allies are energetically taking part in the fight against the invaders," said a communique. "Allied planes yesterday shot down four Japanese planes over Minahassa" while they further scored two direct hits on a Japanese cruiser and a near miss on a destroyer.

"This morning two Australian planes near Manado were shot down in flames by the Japanese."

"Our bombers this morning scored a direct hit on a Japanese cruiser lying off Tarakan while our Glenn Martin bombers also scored two direct hits on two Japanese transport ships lying there."

The Dutch surprisingly found it possible also to help in the defense of Singapore. N. E. I. fighters were also said to have shot down three Japanese raiders attacking the British base this morning.

In the Philippines, Washington announced, a heavy artillery battle flamed along the entire front. Ground activity increased and air attacks were renewed as the Japanese moved fresh troops into front line positions. Indications were that a new Japanese offensive was at hand.

Press On MacArthur

The Japanese appeared intent upon wiping out the valiant resistance of General Douglas MacArthur and his American-Philippine army which stood as a diversion of strong Japanese forces from other theaters of the war.

Soprano To Appear In Program Jan. 19

Brier Stoller, young American soprano, will present a concert at 8:30 p. m. Monday, Jan. 19, in the Salem high school auditorium in the second number of the series sponsored by the Northern Columbiana County Concert association.

The third number will close the series March 20, when Fray and Braggiotti, duo-pianists, appear at the high school auditorium.

Miss Stoller, who has achieved considerable success in civic and summer opera and concerts here, was born in Chicago, a descendant of one of the oldest Dutch families in America. She studied in Nice, France, under Giacomo Minkowski, long a music critic and teacher in New York, and received intensive dramatic training from Charles Caffal, coach of the Nice opera.

At the outbreak of the war the singer was scheduled to appear in the leading role in Oscar Straus' newest operetta in France, but conditions there resulted in cancellation of the premiere and she returned to this country.

She received wide attention when she appeared with the Women's symphony orchestra in Grant Park, Chicago, in 194

SUCCESS STORY

Secretary of State Hull said with habitual mildness the other day that he is pleased with the spirit of solidarity among nations of the western hemisphere. No one paid any particular attention. There's nothing exciting about things that are going all right.

Latin America has swung into line behind the United States. While some governments have maintained positions of technical neutrality, all are co-operating with Washington. This becomes more remarkable when it is remembered that in World War I only Cuba and Panama followed the United States into war; the other governments ranged from cool aloofness to thinly concealed hostility.

One of the credit for continental solidarity must be given to the Roosevelt administration's good neighbor policy, the remainder to the reality of Axis threats to the security of the various Latin American governments. While the fighting ability of the governments is negligible, except for home defense, their goodwill and cooperation are invaluable assets in wartime. In the matter of naval bases and friendly ports alone, the good neighbor policy has justified itself.

In a conference beginning in Rio de Janeiro on Jan. 15, further measures of security will be discussed. These concern, chiefly, economic collaboration; and curbs on alien activities hostile to the interests of the American republics. Also scheduled for discussion, however, are common objectives and plans for post-war reconstruction. Latin America has a vital contribution to make to defeat of the Axis; it never would have felt the threat of danger from Germany, Italy and Japan if they had not marked it as a valuable prize in their drive for world conquest.

IT'S THE UPKEEP

Attempts to explain the size of the figures in the new budget are ingenious, but futile. It's not the figures that are so baffling as a matter of fact, but the ideas which the figures are supposed to convey. Minds trained in orthodox finance can't be expected to grasp a situation in which debt must be considered as a problem in carrying charge, instead of as a problem of carrying charge plus repayment of principal. President Roosevelt explained in the budget message that it will cost two and one-half billion dollars to meet the interest on the national debt in 1942. At that time, the debt is expected to be 110 billion dollars, the President is assuming the interest rate will be slightly more than 2.5 percent. The interest rate is the key to the whole situation.

This is the reason: In 1919, when the government was paying an average rate of 4.178 for money, its annual interest charge on a 25½ billion dollar debt was a little more than one billion dollars; in 1941, when the government was paying 2.518 percent on a 43 billion dollar debt, the charge was approximately the same.

In 1942, if the interest rate stays low, the government will be able to carry more than four times as large a debt as in 1919 for two and one half times as much money. That's the secret of the national debt in a nutshell. Any money expert can explain the whole thing in a year or two to a bright pupil willing to give all his time to the subject.

FULL-TIME JOB

There was no loss of confidence in Fiorello LaGuardia as director of civilian defense. That's not the reason it finally has become desirable to place James M. Landis in charge of the executive duties of the office of civilian defense, leaving Mr. LaGuardia to handle policy matters; i. e., kicking Mr. LaGuardia upstairs.

The reason is that there never was any confidence in the New York mayor as director of civilian defense. The whole thing got off to a lame start. Mr. LaGuardia was trying to handle two big jobs; no one thought he could do it. He managed somehow to give the impression that he and Mrs. Roosevelt were running the civilian defense show together; Mrs. Roosevelt is not exactly the type of person ordinarily associated with the performance of tough jobs.

The upshot of it all was that the public began to suspect the office of civilian defense was a bust and that nothing was being done about it because of the President's well known weakness for being too loyal to his friends. Mr. Landis may be no improvement, but at least he starts with a relatively clean slate and will give all his time to the job.

TAPERING OFF

While legislative details for easing habit-tied Americans into daylight saving time are being worked out in Washington someone should put in a good word for the tapering off process. For 12 days before the fateful midnight when the daylight saving law was to go into full effect, clocks could be turned ahead five minutes a day. By the 11th day, everybody would be getting to their destination 55 minutes ahead of time. They wouldn't know this, of course, because all the clocks would be turned ahead—not just their alarm clocks. It would be something like the chickens who keep getting up with the sun and going to bed at dark, until by midsummer's day they are frazzled out from being awake too long; the chickens just take the sun's infallibility for granted.

Men can't be fooled so easily. They pass a law to turn the clocks ahead so they can get up an hour earlier.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, January 13

EXCELLENT augury for progress and highly productive effort is read from this day's lunar transits. It should be a propitious time to make a swift start with new and ambitious projects, particularly if they involve change, travel, correspondence, dealing with lawyers, agencies and the public. The latter contact should be notably successful and gratifying.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a very lively and progressive year, with large and important new projects bringing unexpected results. This applies especially to all pertaining to travel, writings, litigation, agencies and communications of any nature, as well as business and professional aims. Public, community and group relations should flourish and bring prestige. It would be well not to let good judgment be overruled by over-enthusiasm.

A child born on this day although splendidly talented and versatile will also thrive at the behest of Lady Luck. It should have a large choice in professional or business careers.

NEW DEMANDS ON FOOD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Declaring the war was placing new, unexpected and as yet unmeasurable demands upon this country for food, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard today cautioned Americans against being excessively concerned about prices and too complacent about supplies.

He voiced this warning in an interview explaining why he had asked congress to vest in him, rather than in a separate price administrator, the power to set ceilings on farm products.

The senate in effect gave him that power in a price control bill passed Saturday, despite a request of President Roosevelt that all price control be vested in a single administrator.

Congressional action on the legislation has not been completed, however.

Emphasizing that he did not wish to alarm consumers, Wickard said they should nevertheless recognize now that events since Pearl Harbor had greatly altered the food situation.

Before Japan struck, demands were limited mostly to this country and Great Britain. Supplies and production prospects appeared ample then.

"But today no one can tell," the secretary said, "what the demands upon us may be before the war is won. We may be called upon to furnish vast supplies to Allied fighting forces and peoples all over the world."

"We may want to send huge quantities of food as well as munitions to the conquered peoples at the proper time so that they might help defeat the dictators."

"In view of this prospect, I am concerned," Wickard said, "that the American people are more concerned about prices than the possibility that, in the future, demands might outstrip supplies."

Agriculture, he said, faces a production job comparable in size to that of the munitions makers. New food production goals to be announced soon will surpass anything ever attempted in this country, he said.

PARATROOP HAZARD SURPRISINGLY LOW

Clendening Studies Up On "Occupational Dangers"

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

When we are young, I suppose we all feel the urge to go to war. We want to be a soldier and lead the soldier's life. As time goes on, however, we get less and less bellicose.

But of all the things that I have to hide my face from and not think about or look at, is the sight of a moving picture of a guy jumping out of an airplane attached to nothing but a parachute. How they ever get up the nerve to do it is more than I can understand.

I would have thought that jumping out of an airplane in a parachute couldn't be a particularly healthy occupation, but I find to my surprise that the occupational hazard is relatively small.

Report of Medical Corps

I get my information from a report by three lieutenants who are attached to the medical corps of the United States Army. From August 1, 1940, to August 1, 1941, there have been 4,940 parachute jumps made in the group which they reported with a total of 121 injuries, or 2.4 per cent. Of these only 32, or less than 1 per cent, were severe enough for hospital admission. The only one in which death occurred is one in which the parachutist jumped at 750 feet and was killed when his main and emergency chute failed to open completely. Jumping at this height has been discontinued owing to the inadequate time allowed for the parachutist to use his second chute.

The great majority of injuries were very trifling, consisting of contusions, bruises and sprains of lesser degree. An average of five to six days was all that was allowed for treatment. Of the 32 severe injuries, most of them were fractured bones of one kind or another.

Naturally bones of the foot, ankle and leg suffered more than any other part of the body. These injuries occurred of course during the last phase of the jump or at the time when the jumper made contact with the ground. Many factors may cause accidents of this kind such as cross winds, uncontrolled oscillations and irregularity of the ground.

Wind is the main hazard to the jumper. If the cross wind currents are strong, the increased oscillation will cause the parachutist to strike the ground unevenly. Unless both feet land on the ground at the same time, the hazard is distinctly greater.

French Army Report

A report from the French army published in 1939, covered the subject quite completely and is in agreement with the American experiences. The French found that there were four general kinds of casualties: First, injuries which resulted in death; second, injuries to the abdomen or chest without rupture of any blood vessels; third, internal injuries with hemorrhage and fourth, fractures of the lower extremities.

The candidate for parachute work is instructed in ground training first. He first jumps from a platform with levels of four, six and eleven feet high and is taught the method of landing in order to take up shock; he is instructed to land equally on the balls of the two feet so that the shock may be absorbed partially.

The other kind of ground instruction is the tower jump where the student is attached to a harness with an open chute controlled by cables and allowed to fall two hundred and fifty feet and lands on a rubber spring mattress. The other is known as the free tower jump in which the rider is hoisted to an elevated tower of two hundred and fifty feet in an open chute and then dropped. This exactly simulates a parachute jump.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

L. R.: "Is there any cure for varicose veins? Are injections safe?"

Answer: Yes. Injections are safe and very satisfactory.

A. P.: "Would you list some foods which give an alkaline reaction. I have been trying to learn what to eat in order to keep an alkaline balance and I feel at a loss to learn from your column that cabbage, beans, cauliflower, etc. have a highly alkaline reaction because of the fact that after these foods are eaten I always have much gas."

Answer: The formation of gas after eating has nothing to do with either acid or alkaline reaction of the body. I gather from your letter that you worry too much about your food and your health. Try not reading my column or anybody else's health column for six months and see if you don't feel better.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

After knocking repeatedly at the green door indicated by Dr. Hewitt, Meredith made his way round to the back of the cottage, but there was no sign of life in the little house.

"Anyone in the village who might know his movements?" asked John. Yes, he said, but I think Annie Whistlercraft cleans for him. Let's question her."

Mrs. Annie Whistlercraft proved to be a "foreigner" married into the clan. She had been a lady's maid at one of the big houses near by prior to her marriage, and proved herself extremely valuable on the subject of her present part-employment.

"Mr. Huff?" she repeated at Yve's question. "There now I said to myself at the time, I said, there's something up. For why? Because Mr. Huff seemed to put out about one thing, and I say to him, Mr. Huff, I'm not one to stick me nose where it isn't wanted. Very straight I tell him for I was never one to beat about the bush. Me member always said to me 'Annie, you talk straight and people'll know you're straight.' I said to 'im, I tell you, Mr. Huff...."

"Yes, yes, Mrs. Whistlercraft, I'm sure you did," said Yve, desperately attempting to stem the flood. "But what was it Huff said to you, and when and in what way did he seem upset?"

"Up to no good, I'll bet," nodded Annie. "I never did like his sneaking ways now. And what with his drinking...."

"Mrs. Whistlercraft," interrupted Yve, "did Huff say he was going away?"

"An, that he did. Said he'd been given the day off."

They gradually learned that Henry Huff had let her go that morning, telling her that he would let her know when he would need her services again. Then he had taken the bus which goes to Ipswich.

When at length the three men were able to free themselves from the toils of Mrs. Whistlercraft's garrulity, Yve looked at Meredith and asked, "Is he bolting?"

"Looks like it. Let's get to a telephone."

At Weyland Hall, Meredith called Colonel Stafford, the chief constable. "Meredith speaking," he said. "I've got a job for your fellows. Can you have them do it on my say-so?"

"I certainly can, Sir John. I've had instructions direct from the Home Office about you."

"Well, that's very helpful. Now, Colonel, you know about Coshier Simms, whom I handed over last night to your chaps to be held on a charge of attempted assault?"

"Well, I've got another man for you to arrest, in connection with the same charge. His name is Henry Huff, hospital porter at the Weyland Cottage Hospital. Huff is known to have a criminal record under the name Horace Higgins."

"Any special charges?" asked the chief constable briefly.

"Accessory before the fact in the Simms assault affair."

About half-past ten that night Colonel Stafford telephoned Meredith, who asked almost at once.

"I'll say I have," replied the police car on the Ipswich road.

"Good!" declared Meredith. "Where is he? I'll come over and talk to him."

"You may talk to him but he won't answer. He's dead!"

There was a brief silence, then Meredith said, "Was he killed?"

"Very much so. He's been stabbed!"

Within an hour, Meredith got out of his car in the courtyard of the Ipswich police station. He hurried to the little mortuary at the rear. On a large porcelain slab lay all that was mortal of Henry Huff.

An elderly man wearing spectacles was staring at the corpse, whose chest revealed a gaping wound about an inch in length.

"This is Doctor Willard, the police surgeon, Sir John," said Inspector Stafford, and the two shook hands.

Meredith turned to the blue-uniformed man at his side and asked, "You didn't move him, I suppose, before taking photographs?"

"That's right, Sir John. Would you like to see them?"

"Please."

Meredith asked, "Did he die instantly?"

"Practically. It's a queer wound," went on the doctor. "The knife must have slipped or something."

"Why?" asked Meredith, interested.

"Look closely," suggested the police surgeon, pointing with a small scalpel. "It's not a clean-lipped wound such as you might expect from a knife thrust, there's an odd broadening about the middle."

At that moment the Inspector returned with a grisly collection of photographs, which Sir John examined quickly.

"Any other injuries?" Meredith queried, handing the photographs back to the Inspector, who replied, "Dr. Willard hasn't found any. By the way," he went on, "the victim was armed. He had an old-fashioned service revolver laying just by his hand when found."

"Has it been finger-printed?"

"Yes, sir. There's nothing but the dead man's prints on it."

Dr. Williams gave a little cough and Meredith glanced at him. "Yes, Doctor?"

"I made a pretty thorough examination," said the police surgeon, "and I came across something rather odd. In his back," he added and paused. "Just give me a hand, would you, Inspector? I want to turn him over."

This accomplished, Meredith stooped over and stared at a point near the spine, half-way up the back, to which the police surgeon was pointing.

"You see a slight swelling there?" asked Dr. Willard. "It's not so noticeable as when he was first brought in, but you can feel it."

Meredith's touch discovered a little hard lump. "Right," he said. "Where do we go from there?"

"Well," said the other, "I don't know that we go anywhere. I haven't done the post-mortem yet, of course. We were waiting so that you could see the body. But with regard to that little lump in his back, I thought at first that it was a cyst but somehow it doesn't feel like it. Too solid. Seems almost as hard as a stone."

Sir John thought a moment and then asked, "Would it be proper if you made a small incision in the back and had a look at your lump?"

Dr. Willard, picking up a surgical knife, made a small incision. With a pair of forceps he probed the wound. The instrument closed firmly on some object. The next moment, as something metallic rattled in an enamel bowl, Meredith let out his breath in a soft whistle while he found himself staring down at a bullet.

"Good grief!" exclaimed Dr. Willard while Inspector Stafford's eyes bulged. They stared at Meredith as though he alone could afford an explanation.

"Stabbed and shot," Sir John said, speaking as though to himself. "Stabbed and shot. Or—shot and stabbed."

After a brief silence, Meredith addressed Dr. Willard with, "I suppose you can establish pretty definitely whether this man was first shot or stabbed?"

"Certainly," nodded the other. "Could you do the post-mortem right away while I wait?"

"Of course," replied the doctor.

At 1:15 a. m., Dr. Willard straightened his back and looked at Meredith, who was sitting on a high stool tilted against the wall. "Satisfied?" asked the police surgeon.

"Very," nodded Meredith. "I'm most grateful to you, Doctor. Let me see if I've got it right: The man was first shot, the bullet just grazing the heart and lodging in the apex of the lung. Small-calibered bullet with little penetrative power. Subsequently, but almost immediately afterwards, he was stabbed."

"May have been done by two men," suggested the police surgeon, lighting a cigarette.

"Sir John shook his head. 'If a theory of mine is proved to hold water,' he replied, 'we shall know it was done by the same person.'"

"But why stab a man when you've already shot him fatally?"

"I think I know the answer to that one," said Meredith quietly. "Let's get on with the resume of your findings. As luck would have it, the point of the knife came into contact with the bullet and drove it further into the body, leaving it finally lodged against the vertebrate. Am I right?"

"That's all right, Sir John," nodded the weary police surgeon. "May I have that bullet?" asked Meredith.

That matter was satisfactorily arranged. Sir John signing a receipt for the bullet, which he wrapped up in a sheet of tissue paper and placed in an empty match box.

Despite the hour, which was then after two a. m., Meredith drove straightway to Kerley, where Inspector Rainbird lived. A brief conversation elicited that what Meredith was seeking was at the police station in Davenham.

"I'll get some clothes on and come with you," volunteered the Inspector.

Half an hour later, Rainbird was explaining what he wanted to the sergeant-in-charge at Davenham police station.

"It's in the safe, Inspector. 'Right. Give me the keys.' Rainbird opened the little safe and drew out a small, camouflaged leather bag, the strings of which were drawn and sealed. He broke the seal and tumbled something out onto the palm of his hand. He held it out to Meredith, who took it in his fingers and regarded it curiously.

"Rainbird, old men," Sir John said, "we're on the right track! I'll give you a receipt for this."

He said he had also warned local draft board not to become hysterical or indiscriminately classify men for immediate service because of the present emergency.

FAIRS WILL GO ON, IS BROWN'S RULING

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12. — Ohio's State fair and the 92 county and independent fairs will be held as usual this year, despite the war, Agricultural Director John T. Brown asserted today.

"To accomplish the important word that lies before us it is necessary to maintain the morale and interest of agriculture," he remarked.

Applying for dates for the annual expositions, fair managers from all parts of the state indicated the stress on farm production in wartime would contribute to the success of this year's fairs.

Fair dates are to be assigned at the annual convention of the Ohio Fair Managers association here Jan. 14-15.

Ashley fair in Delaware county seeks to open the season with an exposition July 15-18. The Putnam-Alen independent fair at Columbus Grove has applied for the latest date, Dec. 16-18. Labor day, Sept. 7, falls on its latest possible date.

How the Yanks Sailed—in '18

With an American expeditionary force being rounded into shape for action "wherever they are needed," according to President Roosevelt's state-of-the-union speech, United States soldiers will soon be filling huge transports like this one. Here, American troops are shown aboard the troopship Mt. Vernon during the first world war.

SPECIAL SESSION OF ASSEMBLY SEEN

FDR Security Liberalization Plans May Call Lawmakers Out

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12.—Liberalization of unemployment compensation and other social security benefits as proposed by President Roosevelt may necessitate a special session of Ohio's general assembly.

Officials in the state bureau of unemployment compensation said today that if the federal government set jobless benefit standards higher than Ohio's, the legislature would have to make the present compensation act conform. Otherwise, Ohio could not continue to share money paid into the unemployment insurance fund by Buckeye employers, they added.

His Merit Rating

Revision of the unemployment insurance system in line with a recommendation of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, BUC officials asserted, would knock out a merit rating program under which Ohio employers are expected to pay about $40,000,000 into the insurance fund this year.

Employers now are taxed a percentage of their pay roll for unemployment insurance, according to the stability of employment in their business. Merit rating is intended to encourage steady employment. Last year's contributions totaled $75,000,000 from a 3 per cent tax on payrolls of 57,000 employers of some 2,000,000 workers. Employers do not contribute.

Secretary Morgenthau suggested a 5 per cent social security tax for both employers and employees. A 5 per cent unemployment tax would cost Ohio employers an estimated $125,000,000 yearly. An increase in employee social security payments from 1 to 5 per cent would total another $135,000,000, or a combined total of about 10 per cent of Ohio's taxable payrolls.

Although terming it pure conjecture, BUC officials said a liberalized unemployment program might establish $20-$10 maximum and minimum benefits compared with Ohio's $16-$5; payments for 20 weeks instead of Ohio's 18; a one-week waiting period instead of two, and contributions from employers of one or more persons compared with three now.

Debt Confiscation

Although recognizing it as a possibility, BUC officials expressed doubt that the federal government would confiscate Ohio's $226,000,000 credit built up in the unemployment insurance fund since 1936, but instead would count on higher contributions to aid its war financing.

The President said in his budget speech: "Increased contributions would result in reserves of several billion dollars for post-war contingencies. The present accumulation of these contributions would absorb excess purchasing power. Investment of the additional reserves in bonds of the United States government would assist in financing the war."

Under the President's plan, BUC officials explained, most unemployment fund contributions would be immediately available for government bond purchases because, with employment increasing, benefit payments would total only a small portion of the money received.

BUC officials asserted a liberalization program would be preferable to complete federalization of state systems, a movement against which Ohio has been a leading opponent.

Check On Married Men

PRICE LIMIT IS SET ON RENEWED TIRES

Schedule, Effective Jan. 19, Acts To Prevent "Serious Profiteering"

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The government clamped price ceilings today on charges that may be made for retreading tires and served notice that prices of used tires would be fixed within a few days to halt "serious profiteering."

The price schedule becomes effective Jan. 19, and was ordered into effect, price administrator Leon Henderson said, because profiteering in used and retreaded tires had reached a point where it "cannot and will not be allowed to continue."

Will Protect Public

"Your government cannot permit price to determine who can afford and who cannot afford to buy second-hand tires in this time of war," he asserted. "The public must be protected from exploitation."

For a 6.00x16 tire—the size used on most lower-priced passenger cars—the maximum permissible charge for retreading or top capping when the best grade cambeback is used is $7.50. If done with second grade cambeback, the maximum is $6.45.

As defined in the order, "retreading" is the process of removing old rubber down to the fabric and application of new rubber to the tread surface and side walls. "Top capping" means the application of new rubber to the tread surface only. "Cambeback" is the material used.

Dealers selling retreaded tires may charge the maximum retreading price in each category of passenger car tires plus $1.50 for furnishing the tire carcass.

Each treaded or recapped tire sold after 8 a. m. Jan. 19 must be accompanied by a statement to the purchaser as to whether the tire had been retreaded or top-capped, the market price of the cambeback used, and the depth of the tread at the center of the tire after completion of recapping or retreading.

All dealers in such tires must post in their shops a copy of the government's maximum price list.

On passenger car tires, the maximum prices are the same for both retreading and top capping, but on truck tires there are differing schedules for the two operations.

Prices Tabulated

Here are prices as applied to more popular sizes of passenger car, truck and tractor tires with (1) the most expensive grade of cambeback and the deepest tread and (2) the second most expensive cambeback and the next deepest tread:

GOOD HOMES HELP NATIONAL DEFENSE

Weather Stripping, Storm Doors, Windows Important Now

Protecting your home is in keeping with national defense. Uncle Sam wants good homes, and keeping yours in good condition not only increases its value but at the same time conserves more material in the long run.

Nearly any repair can be made without running afoul of the priority on certain materials. The Damascus Lumber company at Damascus has anticipated the demand for nearly every house repair job you could imagine and has on hand these many materials. Of special interest right now are weather stripping and storm doors and windows. These, properly installed, are an investment that is soon paid for in fuel savings, and they will be replaced. In many cases the saving in doctor bills, because of colds contracted where a draft from some window or door needs weather stripping, will pay the cost.

Contrary to the impression many have, building costs have not advanced to any alarming figure, most items are plentiful and it is easy to avoid priority materials by consulting with the management at the Damascus Lumber company on the many substitutes which in many cases are more desirable.

WORK DONE RIGHT AT GRATE GARAGE

Careful Attention Is Necessary Now, With Winter Here

All car owners who have had trouble with their cars during the cold spell realize fully, the importance of having experienced mechanics make regular inspections of the many parts that do get out of adjustment.

Mechanics at the Grate Motor company have been kept busy working late every night getting cars properly tuned so that the owners can start them.

The carburetor must be just right to deliver the correct mixture of gas and air or trouble in starting can be expected any cold morning. Correct adjustment also gets the maximum utilization from gasoline.

The generator, which carries an extra burden during cold weather, must be operating efficiently to deliver a constant, steady flow of electrical energy.

The battery receives more abuse than perhaps any other single unit, it must have the power to turn over the motor even though the oil is thick and sticky and, at the same time, furnish current to operate the heater constantly. Only by having the terminals clean and the water level just right can you hope to receive maximum efficiency even when the generator is working at its best.

The spark plugs must not be neglected, if the points are not set just right the spark is incorrect and this condition plays an important part in the starting of a cold motor.

All these features of any car in proper adjustment will make any car start just as easily on a cold day as any other, but few motorists seem to realize it and perhaps just as important is the fact economy of operation goes along in direct ratio, and poor carburetion or ignition steps up the inefficiency in mileage you receive from your motor fuel.

So, regardless of the convenience, the economy feature should be reason enough for any motorist to adopt the habit of having his car checked at least one month at the Grate Motor company garage so he can be reasonably sure it will start regardless of weather and know he is getting every mile from every gallon of motor fuel he buys.

Now that ice and snow are almost sure to be with us for several weeks, the brakes should be checked. Just one wheel either too tight or too loose can cause that skid that may be at just the right time and place to cause an accident that is most serious. Even a very little difference in adjustment causes one or more tires to drag and all will admit that anything that will help save those precious tires is worth doing now.

The Grate Motor company is equipped with the very latest of machinery to adjust brakes, align wheels and balance them so that you can drive a safe car and know you are getting the last mile from every tire.

Oddities In News Of The Day

RANDOLPH FIELD, TEX.—The butcher, the baker and the modern counterpart of the candlestick maker—a light bulb manufacturer—have rushed into the ranks of the aviation cadets at this West Point of the air.

Also among the newest recruits are students, teachers, clerks, farmers, oil workers, and a Hollywood photographer, a football star, a milk tester, a funeral director, a dynamiter, a golfer, a tobacco auctioneer, a social worker, a skiing instructor and a chemistry professor.

FORT CUSTER, MICH.—The youngest volunteer for service at this post is eight-year-old Frank Maher of Kalamazoo, Mich. He wrote to the commanding officer and asked for a job carrying messages around the camp. The professor was declined with an expression of commendation for the lad's spirit.

JEFFERSON BARRACKS, MO.—Among the strangest sidelights of the war is this one:

Since the Jap bombs fell on Pearl harbor 90 men who had deserted the army at various camps around the country have surrendered at the gates of this reservation or to military police in St. Louis. Captain F. H. Lewis reported most of them went "over the hill" because they were bored with peace time military routine. They included one who built up a $20,000-a-year business since he took French leave some years ago and another who earned $100 a week as a construction supervisor.

"They say," the captain related, "they want to do their duty now."

FORT BRAGG, N. C.—Private Seymour Salem posted public notice that he would ghost write letters for any of his busy buddies to sweethearts, affluent uncles or anyone else. The standard rate is 10 cents a copy and confidences are cheerfully respected.

BERLIN, CONN.—An unidentified mother called for her child at school and finding no policeman on duty at a crosswalk there stepped into the street and directed traffic until all the pupils were out of harm's way.

Motorists obeyed here implicitly, apparently enjoying the novelty and one, saluted, said: "Nice going, mom!"

BROWNSVILLE, Ky.—Farmer E. E. Parsley is patriotic—and a Republican.

During the World war he made certain the Liberty bonds he bought did not show a picture of Democratic President Woodrow Wilson.

Farmer Parsley walked up to a Brownsville tanker the other day and said:

"Whose picture is on the $1,000 defense bonds?"

"Abe Lincoln's," said the banker. "Order me one," replied Farmer Parsley.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON—Office of Civilian Defense, heading agricultural department warnings that American food supplies may be taxed by war's requirements, prepares "victory garden" program to encourage city dwellers to grow their own vegetables.

CHUNGKING—Christopher Sharm, Quaker ambulance driver, returns from round trip on Burma road and reports it "chock-full of Chinese troops moving westward toward border with tanks and motorized artillery."

IRONTON — Ironton's Women's club goes on defense bond diet. Members vote to eliminate refreshments at future meetings and invest refreshment funds in defense bonds. They plan to buy a $25 bond every month.

AKRON—Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., has completed plans for Akron structure of 100,000 square feet of floor space to be devoted to armament production—the fourth addition the firm has started in last year. Details were not announced, but officials also disclosed the company is taking charge of a new ordnance project, a bomb-loading plant, to cover 17,000 acres.

Torpedoed in Pacific

Orin Jewett and Stewart Bennett (front row) and J. A. Keefer, E. C. Rimassa, J. A. McVicker and J. C. Kennedy (back row) six of the twelve survivors from the United States freighter Manini, which was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in the Pacific, are shown on arrival in Honolulu. Seven of the crew were lost. The twelve survivors escaped in lifeboats.

"VALET SERVICE" KEEPS HUBBY TIDY

Paris Representative Will Call For And Deliver Regularly

It's a wise wife who keeps her husband tidy and it just cannot be done without a regular system.

If she depends upon the regular valet service as rendered by the Paris Cleaners, half her worry is gone. A courteous representative will call at any time each week for any dry cleaning and make delivery of the finished work exactly when wanted.

Any wife can accept every invitation with confidence and know her husband will make a smart appearance. She can look forward to the round of winter social events with real pleasure.

By now, furs that were perfectly cleaned and glazed when they were taken from the Paris Cleaners' new vaults should be cleaned, brushed and glazed. The smudge of the long wet season has dulled them and a trip to Paris Cleaners will renew that luster nature gave the fur and the cleaning will protect the pets and give the garment new life.

Paris Cleaners, clean and renew anything in leather wearing apparel. Gloves and leather jackets receive specialized attention impossible unless the special equipment is at hand.

Last summer L. C. Price, the manager at Paris Cleaners, installed every worth while piece of machinery to handle the cleaning, glazing and protecting of furs, even to building as modern a storage vault as can be found anywhere. No department store, in the largest city, has available to them more modern equipment. It just does not exist.

For years the more discriminating women of Salem have realized quality dry cleaning and quality only has been the every day practice at the Paris Cleaners.

ACTS TO FIND JOBS FOR AUTO DEALERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The house small business committee today canvassed methods for keeping automobile dealers in business, even though passenger car production has been curtailed by the conversion of the auto industry to strictly war purposes.

The committee was called into session only a day after the Office of Production Management announced appointment of a management-labor subcommittee charged with working out plans for the conversion.

Cyrus Ching, vice president of the U. S. Rubber company, will be chairman and the group will meet in Detroit whenever he calls it. Members will be Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company, C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, C. C. Carlton, vice president of the Motor Wheel corporation, Walter P. Reuther, and Richard Frankenstein, vice presidents of the CIO-United Automobile Workers, and George F. Addes, the union's treasurer.

All except Ching were members of an original ten-man committee—five for labor and five for management—which was deeded over a union proposal that the job be done under joint industry-labor-government supervision.

In the meanwhile the house group called officials of the National Automobile Dealers association to tell what they believe should be done for the nation's 44,000 dealers, hard-hit by the government's curtailment plan.

Overalls, Life Savers

Captain Erling Vorberg

Suit worn by Captain Erling Vorberg of the Norwegian tanker Barfonn, torpedoed in the Atlantic last October, is a new type of overall life-saving garment. Made of rubberized twill, the suit has a kapok jacket and heavy boots. It can be donned in a minute. Captain Vorberg reports that some of his crewmen were pulled out of the water warm and dry after two hours immersion. "The boat-swain," he said, "was floating unconscious in the water but the heavy boots of his suit kept him upright."

Message Of Flowers Always Cheery One

If every picture is worth a thousand words, so it must be said of flowers, which are capable of carrying a message into every situation.

Flowers speak a universal language. Their beauty sometimes can tell the story much more effectively than merely words.

At this time of the year they are particularly effective, because they bring a breath of freshness and life at a season when surroundings are drab and dark.

Especially for those who are ill and shut in are flowers more than valuable. They brighten up the patient's room and his outlook.

Let flowers deliver your message of cheer and let Endres & Gross advise you on the proper combination. They are glad to do this. A simple telephone call is all that's necessary.

Flick, Mercer Pace Goshen To Victory

North Jackson, Jan. 12.—Goshen Township's basketball team scored a decisive triumph over North Jackson in their Mahoning county Class B encounter Saturday night, scoring 23 points in the first quarter and compelling the fast pace for a 58-23 win.

Flick and Mercer were the high scorers for the visitors, aggregating 16 and 10 points, respectively. Ten of the 14 players seeing action made the scoring column as Goshen took a 28-10 halftime lead and increased it to 40-16 going into the last frame.

Goshen also won the reserve fray, but not quite so handily. The count was 23-14.

8B showed a well balanced team in action knocking off 8D by a 16-7 count. Schuster led the well divided scoring for the winners while 8D was ed by Whitacre, Cahill and Juliano.

CLIPPERS BATTER CANFIELD, 70 TO 32

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 12.—Columbiana High basketball team won a scoring spree here Saturday night, swamping Canfield, 70-32. The contest was exceedingly rough during the second half with Referee Paul Avery ousting Chester McPhee, Canfield ace after he was alleged to have attacked Bill Dickinson, who was guarding him.

Bill Hollinger scored 27 points, Don Patchen 20, and Bob Firestone 13 to pace the winners. Young featured for Canfield with 14 tallies. Paulin and Young of the visitors were ousted on fouls in the third period and Patchen of Columbiana suffered the same fate in the last frame.

Coach Alfred Beach's team lost little time in getting the advantage, zooming to the front, 16-8, in the first period. At halftime the locals held sway, 33-19, and the third quarter saw the score mount to 61-26.

Columbiana Reserves beat Canfield, 28-12.

BARONS TOP NEW HAVEN SIX, 4 TO 1

(By Associated Press)
A bit of drama was injected into the Cleveland conquest of New Haven in the American Hockey league last night when it became known during the game that defenseman Wilf Simon of the Eagles had been recalled by his Canadian regiment.

Even Simon's presence couldn't help New Haven win as the Barons, 1941 playoff kings, moved closer to the leading Hershey Bears in the Western half standings. Simon leaves today for army duties.

Cleveland triumphed handily, 4 to 1, in a rough contest that saw 12 penalties dealt out.

The Indianapolis Caps won, 5 to 1, over the Philadelphia Rockets and clung to the third rung in the Western ladder with 37 points. Eddie Shore's Indians were the 5 to 1 victims of an aroused Buffalo Sabres as 7,120 Bison fans watched.

SPORT CHATTER

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(Wide World)—A lot of silly things have been said about the war and sports (and this may be one of them) but we can't see the necessity of cancelling the golf championships.... We can't think of anything that would have much less effect on the war effort than a women's golf tournament—unless it's the court tennis championships that already have been called off.... As long as the golfers are going to have competition, why not let them have a national title to aim at, even though it wouldn't mean as much as usual?

Freddie Fitzsimmons, whose new bowling emporium opened the other night, is the 28th major leaguer (past and present) on the list of alley owners.... No doubt their places all feature strikes.... Reports from Chicago say the Cubs have been inquiring about training facilities in San Antonio, Tex., and the White Sox have been shopping around Florida, although both clubs still say they're going back to California.

When the story that Santa Anita's race meeting had been cancelled came over the wires, the Salem (Mass.) Evening News headlined it: "There's no Santa—Anita."

Back from coast-to-coast recruiting tour Gene Tunney reports he still is looking for physical instructors for the navy but isn't signing up any more boxers. ## "Battling Baptists" Lose To Christians

The Baptists and Christians engaged in a crucial battle on the Memorial Building floor Saturday and after a close, hard tilt, the Christians emerged with a 33-27 victory. For the winners, it was John Workman who provided the spark. He flipped in 11 points to take top individual honors while his teammate, "Gabby" Ritchie was close second with eight points. B1 Ritchie and Don Mayhew shared honors for the losers as each tallied eight points.

With Durham meshing 11 points, the Emmanuel's racked up a win at the expense of the Salvation Army five, 32-25. Krauss also looked good for the winners with eight tallies. Ingle and Bush flipped in seven apiece to pace the winners while in the only walk away game of the day, St. Paul's tripped the Methodists by a 42-19 tally. John "Kooty" Kozar tallied 14 points on six fielders and a pair of free shots to feature for the winners while Tony Hoover and Scullion scored four each to lead the Methodists. The Presbys were idle this week.

Minerva Victorious Over East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE, Jan. 12. — Dale Cowan gave a spectacular one-man offensive display for East Palestine, collecting 22 points, but the Bulldogs dropped their Tri-County League engagement to Minerva Saturday night, 36-31.

Minerva twice gained substantial leads, and on both occasions East Palestine rallied valiantly but was unable to overtake the foe. Trailing 14-5 at the end of the first frame, the locals cut the margin to 22-19 at the half. Minerva went ahead 32-23 in the third quarter and East Palestine knifed that margin to four points.

The locals were without the services of four varsity basketball players, temporarily suspended for disciplinary reasons.

East Palestine won the reserve encounter, 30-12.

President Roosevelt issued a citation of the valor of the 278 Marines who held the strategic island for fourteen days.

Mine Is Re-opened

SHAWNEE, O., Jan. 12.—The Whip-Poor-Will mine near here, idle 20 years, has been reopened
 by the Shawnee Coal Co. It plans complete mechanization of the shaft, which formerly produced 500 tons of coal daily and employed 100 men.

place for any German attempt to invade the British Isles. German reverses in Russia have raised new fears that Hitler's next move might be the British invasion attempt that he has hungered for since the failure of the invasion given in speculation to the Mediterranean war zone.

Reds Recapture City

The Russian recapture of Lyudinov tightened the vise on the Germans at Moshaisk, 57 miles west of Moscow and the closest position to the capital still held by the Nazis.
 Soldiers have been driven westward both below and above Moshaisk.
 The Red armies reported forward smashes there and elsewhere along the vast front from the Arctic to the Black Sea.

The Russians said officially that they had captured the steel-producing city of Lyudnov, 40 miles north of Bryansk and directly on the Bryansk-Vyazma defense line, which British reports have said Adolf Hitler told his men to hold at all costs.

The Russians also said they had recaptured the railway junction of Tikhonova Pustyn, a few miles north of Kaluga, which is about half-way between Moscow and Bryansk.

The British radio quoted a spokesman in Kuibyshev, alternate Russian capital, as saying the Russians were within 80 miles of Smolensk, the ruined Russian city 220 miles west of Moscow in which, Stockholm reports to London have said, Hitler set up headquarters on taking personal command of the German army.

A Vichy, France, news agency dispatch said the Russians had recaptured the famous city of Balaklava, on the Crimea, a gain which if confirmed would give the Russians dominance of the southern extremity of the Crimean peninsula.

Mearwhile, the British admiralty announced its submarines had sent to the bottom of the Ionian sea a large Axis transport "laden with troops" and probably destroyed a supply vessel. The ships might have been headed for Libya with reinforcements for the fleeing Axis army.

The troops of German General
 Erwin Rommel were reported by London to be still withdrawing toward El Aghella, on the Gulf of Sirte below Bengasi and Agadabia.
 The RAF was active during the weekend, announcing fierce raids on the great German naval bases of Wilhelmshaven and Emden Saturday night, bomb attacks on airdromes in the low countries and docks at Boulogne, France, and on a convoy off the Dutch coast. Six planes were acknowledged lost.

The Germans raided Liverpool for the first time in months Saturday night. Ten persons were killed there and 10 others were seriously injured.

additional troops to close in on Singapore or to expand her invasion footholds in the N. E. I.

The most that Japan could claim after the first shock of her attack on the N. E. I. was possession of the small city of Menado, on northern Celebes, a narrow arm of the Dutch archipelago, south of the Philippines and the island of Tara-kan, off the coast of Dutch Borneo to the northwest of Celebes.

Both points were naturally difficult to defend.

In Malaya, the Japanese, despite the success of British imperial withdrawals, were still more than 150 miles from Singapore and probably no closer on the eastern side, although there has been little exact word on the locations of that front.

Nevertheless the Japanese had negotiated an important barrier on their way toward Singapore with the capture of Kuala Lumpur.

This Helps, Too

Among the many helpful hints suggested for handling articles to aid in conserving rubber, is this hint to women on how girdles should be put on properly. This model shows how the girdle should be rolled and carefully pulled over the hips, then unrolled upward into position desired.
 After washing, the girdle should not be dried over a radiator or in direct sunlight.

center. Ranging farther afield, Dutch submarines were credited with sinking two Japanese transports in the Gulf of Siam.

U. S. Fleet Aiding
 Units of the U. S. Asiatic fleet were cooperating with Dutch naval forces in invasion counter-moves, but the navy department here was silent on the nature and results of their activities.

The communique last night limited itself to a report of a Japanese hit-run attack on the naval station at Tutuila, in American Samoa, some 2,200 miles southwest of Hawaii. A small enemy warship pumped 14 shells of light caliber in the direction of the naval station there. No damage and only three slight casualties resulted.

The foray fitted into the general pattern of the hit-and-run campaign which the enemy has been waging against American outposts in an effort to weaken the U. S.
 Pacific fleet by decoying warships away for protective patrol duty.

Some informed observers here believe that Japan has been compelled to commit a goodly portion of the imperial fleet to the South China sea to support the heavy operations in that theatre, and therefore will take daring risks in an effort to divert U. S. naval attention as much as possible.
